The V60 is a V-shaped pour-over dripper designed by the Japanese company Hario. It gets name from its 60-degree angle. Thanks to its design, it delivers a clean cup with distinct floral and fruity notes. Expect a balanced, bright, aromatic flavor profile with pronounced acidity.

CHEMEX / 200₺

Designed in 1941 by American chemist Peter Schlumbohm, the Chemex is a glass coffee brewing method that combines aesthetics with functionality. Its thick paper filters remove most oils and fine particles, resulting in a clean, clear brew with rich aromas and layered flavors. This brewing method stands out for producing a crisp and pure taste profile.

AEROPRESS / 185₺

The AeroPress is a brewing method that combines pressure with paper filtration. Unlike espresso machines, it filters out oils that may negatively affect flavor. The pressure enhances extraction, while the paper filter ensures a clean cup. The result is a smooth, pure tasting coffee.

COLD BREW / 210₺

Cold brew is a type of coffee with a soft drink and low acidity, obtained by brewing coffee with cold water for a long time. This method slowly reveals the aroma of the coffee, reduces its bitterness and brings the sweet notes to the fore. Cold brew, one of the most preferred types of cold coffee, stands out with its refreshing effect, especially in the summer months.

DELTER PRESS / 185₺

A new-generation coffee maker that uses injection brewing and Jet-Seal technology. With this design, you can brew anywhere from 200 ml to 400 ml of coffee. It delivers a full-bodied, clean and smooth cup that is sure to satisfy.

FILTER COFFEE 140₺ ☕ 150₺ ☕

Brewed using freshly ground coffee and hot water, filter coffee typically made with professional machines like (Moccamaster) produces a light, clean-tasting cup. It's a classic method appreciated for its clarity and simplicity.

JAPANESE COLD BREW / 190₺

The key feature of Japanese Cold Brew is the immediate cooling of coffee with ice. This preserves its freshness and allows for a balanced, aromatic flavor profile. Brewed hot over ice using a V60 dripper, this method offers a rich and intense taste in just 15 minutes a quicker version of traditional cold brew.
